Work with students on: concept, story, the world of the show, beat sheets, outline, the importance of editing and grammar, plotlines, storyboards, industry norms and expectations, rewriting and drafts, organization of the show, finding your voice, etc.

- Always Writing 4 U: Owner/ Writer/ Educator/ Publisher/ Consultant Created March 2013- Present

Always Writing 4 U is a writing, editing, and publishing service that caters to high school and college competitive speech and debate students as well as theatre programs. I write and publish one act plays, short stories, and multiple character performances for competition. I also edit oratorical speeches for competition. I have clients from all over the country and have won state level and national level recognition. I assist students with editing college entrance essays as well as working with adults with public speaking engagements. My staff and I travel around the country during the summer and throughout the school year doing acting and competitive workshops. www.alwayswriting4u.com
